

October 2, 2009

To whom it may concern,

San Diego is an educational destination for international students. One example is the University of California San Diego (UCSD) School of International Relations and Pacific Studies that offers graduate-level courses through their Global Leadership Institute. Students it attracts are often unfamiliar with American cultures, not to mention local geography and housing availability. As you can imagine, they benefit greatly from services provided by knowledgeable, experienced, ethical homestay providers. One such provider is Scarlett Homestay Services, operated by Daisy Mayers.

Over the past two years I've had the pleasure of working with Daisy. In that time she's demonstrated genuine concern for students and met countless housing needs. In her dealings she's honest, transparent, and willing to go the 'extra mile' to help resolve problems. San Diego is also fortunate to have Scarlett Homestay Services provide housing services. Students develop favorable impressions of our business culture which reflect well both on the city and UCSD.

I recommend Daisy Mayers and Scarlett Homestay Services be listed as a qualified provider for any educational or business program.

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "David Timber". The signature is fluid and elegant, with a large initial 'D' and 'T'.

David Timber, MPA, LEED AP™
La Jolla, CA
92037-2733